Suppose you’ve settled into the backseat of a car to watch some Apple TV+ on your iPhone or iPad during a long road trip or during your commute to and from work. Don’t let things like poor wireless signal reception or a limited data plan spoil your binge session and download your favorite television and movie content before you hit the road. Whether you’re catching up on episodes of Dickinson, Ted Lasso, or keeping the kids occupied on the backseat with new shows like The Snoopy Show, or taking in a movie like The Banker or Palmer on a long flight, we’ll show you how to download them in a few easy steps. Contents What content can I download?How to download movies and TV shows Are you looking for the best content to watch with your Apple+ subscription? Be sure to check out our updated guides that highlight the best shows on Apple TV+ as well as everything that’s new on Apple TV+. What content can I download? If you’re subscribed to either Apple TV+ or an Apple TV channel, you can choose to download any TV show or movie for later viewing. The Apple TV+ later viewing ability is available for select Apple devices, including iPhone, iPad, iPod touch, and Mac. Any content you download is available for up to 30 days, but Apple notes that some content may expire sooner. Some Apple TV channels may limit how many titles can be downloaded at a time; if you hit that limit, a message will give you a heads-up to delete some previous content. How to download movies and TV shows Michael Archaibault/Digital Trends Whether you are on a device running iOS, iPadOS, or MacOS, the download process is the same. Take note that at this time, you cannot download content for offline viewing on Apple TV devices, smart TVs, and other streaming devices. Step 1: Open the Apple TV app on your device. Step 2: Search for the movie or TV show you wish to download. Step 3: Tap or click the download button (a cloud with a downward-facing arrow) next to the TV show or movie. Note, on a computer the cloud icon will appear for TV episodes when you hover your mouse arrow over the individual episode. Once your video has been downloaded, you can access it by navigating to the Library tab and then the Downloaded section from within the Apple TV app. To remove any downloaded content from an iOS or iPadOS device, tap any title that has an iPhone with a checkmark icon next to it and tap Remove Download. You can also just delete with a swipe or bulk delete via the Edit button right from your Downloaded folder. On a Mac, right-click the content and choose Remove Download. Now that you’re all set, all you need to do is stock up on your favorite shows and maybe a movie or two you haven’t seen (or an old standby you could watch again and again), and hit the road. Editors’ Recommendations (Image credit: Rafael Henrique/SOPA Images/LightRocket via Getty Images) Disney Plus is here, and it’s packed with so many movies and shows that you may be wondering how you’ll ever be able to get through it all. Luckily you can watch shows like The Mandalorian and every Disney Plus Marvel movie even when you’re away from home. Here’s how to download Disney Plus movies and shows for offline playback, so you can watch without Wi-Fi or data. When you download Disney Plus content to your mobile device, you’re able to watch those movies and shows while you’re commuting, at the gym, or in any place with poor cellular connection. If you haven’t yet, make sure you’ve downloaded the Disney Plus app and have completed the Disney Plus sign up steps. • Want to try Disney Plus? Sign up for the Disney Plus 7-day free trial (opens in new tab)Step 1: Open the Disney Plus app on your mobile device and select the program you’d like to download. (Image credit: Future)Step 2: Tap the download icon on the movie or show’s page. When it comes to TV shows, if you click the icon next to ‘Season’ you’ll download the entire season. Click the download icon next to individual episodes if you just want select installments. (Image credit: Future)Step 3: Make sure you’re connected to a Wi-Fi network. If you are, the show or movie will start downloading. But if you’re using a cellular connection, you’ll see this error message. (Image credit: Future)Step 4: Tap the downloads icon on the bottom menu to view and watch your saved movies and shows. (Image credit: Future) Windows/Mac/Linux: If you just saw an awesome movie in the theaters and want it on your computer as soon as possible, free app CouchPotato will look for it on Usenet and automatically download it as soon as a copy is available online. So you’ve gotten started with Usenet, and maybe you’ve even turned your computer into an internet PVR with Sick Beard. If you’re a movie buff, though, you’re still stuck searching for and downloading movies manually—and that just won’t do. CouchPotato automates the process: just tell it what movies you want to download, and it will search according to your quality and language specifications, find the perfect match, and download it for you. If the movie isn’t out yet, it’ll check back periodically until the movie is available, then download it for you right then and there. Usenet is a wonderful service for finding and downloading digital media, giving you speed and…Read moreStep One: Install CouchPotatoInstallation on Windows is easy—just download the ZIP file and extract it somewhere on your computer. It’s a portable app, so you don’t need to install it or anything—just double click on it to start it up. Mac users will need to install Python, then drag the app into their Applications folder as usual. Linux users will need to do a bit more work. This guide also assumes you have SABNZbd installed as described in our original Usenet guide.Step Two: Configure Your SettingsOnce you’ve started up CouchPotato, it should open up the web interface in your browser. Hit the cog icon at the top of the page to edit your settings and get it set up.Under the General tab, you can tell it how often you want it to search, and which search engines you want it to add (like ‘Bluray’ or ‘DTS’) or remove (like ‘dubbed’ or ‘hardcoded’) from your search. You can also add a username and password if you want to protect the web interface from others.Under “NZBs/Torrents”, type in your host IP for SABNZbd, the API key, and the username and password you use to access SAB (you can find all this info in SAB’s settings under General). You’ll also need to enter your username and API key for your NZB provider—like NZBMatrix or Newzbin—under the “Providers” tab. The Quality and Renaming tabs let you customize how you search for and save movies.Step Three: Add Movies to DownloadTo add a movie, just type a movie name into the box in the top right-hand corner of the page. Select your preferred quality and click “Add”. You should see the movie show up on your wanted list, which you can access via the “Wanted” button in the upper left-hand corner of the interface. CouchPotato will check Usenet every so often to see if someone’s uploaded that movie, and send it straight to SAB to be downloaded when it finds a copy. If the movie’s been out for awhile, it’ll find the best version according to your specifications and download it for you.It’s actually very simple to set up, and takes a lot of the annoyances out of downloading movies on Usenet. Now, instead of wading through search results and checking back periodically for new releases, you can just punch your movie into CouchPotato and get on with your day. When your movie’s ready, it’ll show up in your download folder. But what if you’re in the mood for something longer and at a better picture quality? We took six services offering just that out for a spin: CinemaNow, Apple’s iTunes Movie store, MovieFlix, Movielink, Amazon’s Unbox, and Starz’s Vongo. Each has a somewhat different take on what your online movie downloading experience should be. They vary in what they offer, how you should pay, and whether you subscribe to a film library, rent, or purchase the content.Though video on demand has been a glimmer in tech execs’ eyes since the turn of the millennium, the enabling technologies are finally maturing, and three of the services we review just appeared in 2006—Apple’s iTunes movies, Amazon’s Unbox and Starz’s Vongo.There are also a lot of illegal, pirated-movie download sites out there that we don’t recommend and won’t dignify with publishing the names or links of. Some of them are no more than web interfaces for file-sharing technologies like BitTorrent. When a site claims “all free” movies (which they make you pay a site subscription for), you can bet it’s one of these. The legal movie sites we review claim to take the trip to the video store or that wait for mail from Netflix out of your home theater viewings. Is the convenience worth it? What do you gain and what do you lose when switching to internet-delivered entertainment? Continued… By Daniel Westlake A movie soundtrack is one of the most important parts of a film, yet few people know how or where to download them. You can buy tracks at iTunes or AmazonMP3. However, there are a number of online sites where you can download that amazing movie soundtrack you heard in that film the other day. All you need to do is identify the movie, the composer and check out one of these sites. An extensive database that goes beyond the opening theme song, the song over the credits or the tune all the characters dance to—it features the less notable numbers from a film that only real fans will recognize. With more than 45,000 titles to choose from, SoundtrackCollector.com is for the serious musician and soundtrack enthusiast who is truly a fan of composers and the often brilliant and underappreciated work they do for every film. With what may be the biggest database of movie soundtracks online, ArtistDirect.com provides most of these downloads for free (with a fee that must be paid for access to others). However, most of the soundtracks that are the easiest to find are mainstream pop songs that have been purchased for the soundtrack, not necessarily from composers who have done movie scores. Keep this in mind if you are looking for something reasonably obscure. Last.fm seems to have most music tracks in its database—the challenge comes with finding those tracks. If you’re going to use Last.fm to track down these free soundtracks, have all the keyword information available to locate them. Some of the titles are listed by film, some are listed by composer and others are just listed by title. Don’t be discouraged if you can’t find it initially—or just use one of the other sites listed above.
